

Teacher`s Workshop: Montessori Model United Nations (MMUN)

Your Chance to Introduce Peace Education and Global Citizenship into Your Classroom and School!

There are reasons why Teachers call MMUN “a life changing event”. We invite you to join us to find out why.

With a curriculum that includes understanding the United Nations, the role of Ambassadors, current global issues, negotiation and peace education the MMUN Teacher Workshop is a required component to enable teachers to successfully prepare the students to attend the MMUN Conferences.

Who Should Attend?

All teachers (Montessori or non-Montessori) new to Montessori Model UN who want to have their students participating in the MMUN Conferences. It is a one-time activity required prior to attending all MMUN Conferences.

Why Attend?

This energizing Workshop will provide teachers new to MMUN with a variety of strategies necessary for a successful preparation of their MMUN student delegates. The Workshop will also allow participants to begin building the foundation for successful global education studies. Interactive experiences reflective of best practices will aid in the development of skills in the following areas:

- Understanding the History of Dr. Montessori and the United Nations
- Understanding the work of the United Nations and Its Committees
- Becoming a Successful Delegate
- Writing Position Papers
- Preparing Speeches

- Learning how to negotiate and caucus
- Developing the Code of Conduct as Ambassadors
- Understanding the Rules of Procedure
- Writing Draft Resolutions

Why Montessori Model United Nations?

1. Montessori students learn cooperation and the art of compromise.
2. Montessori students develop a connected network to support each other.
3. Montessori students learn from the less structured, more self-directed environment.
4. Montessori students learn about other cultures and about themselves.
5. Montessori produces young leaders with a can-do mentality.

Montessori Model United Nations & Elementary Students

The Montessori Model United Nations in many ways is structured to meet the following needs for the elementary student:

1. Elementary students need a curriculum that educates the “whole child.”
2. Elementary students need exposure to real-world problem solving.
3. Elementary students need a curriculum that incorporates the three-period lesson.
4. Elementary students need to be responsible for their own learning.
5. Elementary students need continued practice in respect and civility.
6. Elementary students need discussion of important topics to formulate thoughts and develop critical-thinking skills.
7. Elementary students need the continued use of narratives to keep them engaged in their education.
8. Elementary students need to be involved with justice from an individual aspect.
9. Elementary students need to be challenged by multi-age groupings.
